

CLINICAL STUDY

We are seeking students to participate in a clinical study on cardiac and systemic health in dogs fed a plant-based versus meat-based diets.

The study will involve stool sample collection as well as eye examinations, IV catheters, and echocardiography. The study will offer FREE TREATMENT (complete blood count and chemistry panel).

If you would like to participate or have questions, please contact

Clinical Research Assistant

Miriam Munoz

mmunoz@westernu.edu

Translational Medicine Division

Pomona CA 91768